

...TISFF is one of the most important short film festivals that Europe has to show today. It has been underlined by being listed amongst the 45 "most important" globally...

Yiannis Zachopoulos, the festival's artistic director, is exceptional guaranty, finding and bringing in to surface, the works of open minded and innovative young filmmakers, who will very soon push the international film scene, towards its demanding future.

My own experience there has been pure artistic treasure. TISFF is "a must to witness film festival" either as a member of the film community or as a spectator...The city of Thessaloniki is lucky and be proud to host a festival such as TiSFF
